Tai transferred his agent authority to Li Aihua.

Why did Tai allow a person without capital and background to take over the agent authority of CMA? Tai replied, “Regardless who is the candidate who wants to take over a national or district level of agent authority, I will consider two factors, subjective and objective. In terms of subjective, their characteristics as an operator will be considered. On the other hand, the one who attends training and education and attends comprehensive training is the objective factor. As for Li Aihua who took agent office in Nanchang, her determination and wisdom toward education amazed me. For example, Ms. Li has a son, Li Quan, who was born to be blind. However, she had her son to learn the piano, trying to help her son develop skills. If Li was from a wealthy family, I wouldn’t be surprised. However, they come from a poor family, but yet they are willing to let children to receive better education. Thus, from this case I realised that the agent of CMA must be an enthusiast with good ideas on education. One not only has to overcome the difficulties faced while starting a new business, he or she must be loyal to the teaching mission of CMA. That’s the reason I chose Li Aihua as the agent to take charge of Nanchang office.

In November 2010, I met with Li Aihua and got to know her family through introduction of Ms. Hu Juan. A four-year-old Li Qianqian, student of Ms. Hu at CMA made significant improvement after attending only ten classes.

When I wanted to help Li Qianqian to achieve higher level, I learned from Ms. Hu that she couldn’t continue because of financial problems. I knew that she’s an outstanding child with talent. I’m confident of her ability because she has a responsible mother with strong executive power. While Qianqian was attending CMA, her mother was very cooperative with Tai. For example, she would help Qianqian to practise online, recorded down how many questions Qianqian had practised every day, etc. Mrs. Li could finish all the tasks the teacher requested. Therefore, she’s the first parent who was so cooperative I’ve ever met.) Thus, I provided her a ‘Talent Plan’ allowing Qianqian study from home and continued to learn from CMA. Within eight months, she won the championship in every competition and contest. Many parents were asking for Qianqian's teacher. Qianqian became an icon of CMA.”

Li Aihua considered Tai to be a great help and believed it was a miracle to her family that she could have chance to start her own career. Tai chose Li to be the agent of CMA in Nanchang because he appreciated Qianqian's talent and Mrs. Li's efforts. He understood that Li would devote herself to operate the CMA with sincerity. Dear Mr. Tai,

It's fortunate that Qianqian has the opportunity to have a teacher like you. I know your time is valuable so I'm appreciated you gave Qianqian a chance to receive the remote teaching lesson from you.

Mr. Tai, I'm sorry that Qianqian can no longer attend your remote teaching class. Nevertheless, I really love your teaching method of Using Both Hands. Qianqian and I will make more efforts together.

Sincerely, Qianqian's mother
